

I oppose the sale of the Voom satellite to Dishnet. Without Voom competition would be limited for the consumer. Voom acts as an incentive to get satellite services to provide HDTV content. The consumer wants choice and innovation not more of the same.